You can pick the power management option between shutdown, restart and log off, as well as set the countdown timer in seconds. The action can be triggered with the click of a button. Contains a light set of features As informed by the developer, closing the control panel shall not cancel the power feature. Instead, it's necessary to abort it by clicking on the corresponding button. There are no other noteworthy options implemented by this piece of kit. For instance, it doesn't notify you when the task is about to be executed to give you the possibility to cancel it. On top of that, it doesn't have an option for shutting down the machine at a sharp time. Evaluation and conclusion The software product didn't put a strain on the machine's performance in our testing, consuming a low amount of CPU and memory. It worked smoothly, without causing the operating system to hang, crash or indicate errors. All in all, Shutdown Manager delivers a clear-cut solution for turning off, rebooting or logging off your workstation on a countdown timer.Q: How to get the header of a single outbound route I'm trying to check if the outgoing route is the app route (in which case I want to skip the server-side logic) and then check if the header is "x-requested-with".
